The Customer shall not request the amount of the rebate for annual quantity (crediting) in any other form; it can be used only in the form described herein, as compensation.

The current, valid Contract (accepted offer) or the modification of the contract specifies the exact amount/extent of the rebate with the stipulation that Szeplast shall not unilaterally change for the Customer's disadvantage the amount and conditions of rebate already accepted by the Customer.

Default in payment or exceeding the credit limit

The Customer shall be obliged to pay the interest on overdue payments within eight (8) days of Szeplast's notice and statement of claim.

The order of crediting the Customer's payments

Szeplast shall use the amounts paid by the Customer as per the Contract to fulfil the Customer's existing payment obligations (arising from contractual relationship) in the following order:

- 1) paying for Szeplast's unpaid expenses, costs, fees and for damages to Szeplast proportionately;
- 2) paying for due but unpaid interests on overdue payments arising from contractual relationship;
- 3) paying any due but unpaid purchase price proportionately; and
- 4) paying for any due but unpaid amount arising from the contractual relationship.

Upon prior notice Szeplast shall be entitled to depart from this at any time within its competence, but the Customer shall not order Szeplast to do so.

In the event of infringement of the obligations of confidentiality –either due to negligence or wrongfully– the Party at fault shall be liable for full compensation and, depending on the contents of the infringement, shall bear criminal liability.

When Szeplast assigns an existing valid financial claim to a third party providing financial collection services of any type for lawful claims, the provision of confidentiality shall not apply to the information necessary for the assignee to enter into and perform the contract of assignment. Also, confidentiality shall not apply to Szeplast providing information to a third party necessary to enter into and perform the credit insurance agreement in connection with the credit limit provided for the Customer.
